Discover the soul of African American heritage this season at the African American Museum in Philadelphia (AAMP)! Located in the heart of Old City, AAMP brings you history, art, and unforgettable stories that define African American life and culture. Don't miss these stunning exhibitions and events. "Sailing to Freedom" tells the stories of brave history-makers who used coastal water routes along the Atlantic seaboard as part of their journey on the Underground Railroad. "Ruth E. Carter: Afrofuturism in Costume Design" features nearly 80 original designs from two-time Academy Award-winning costumer and designer Ruth E. Carter. This collection includes original costumes from films such as Black Panther, Sinners, Coming 2 America, and more. Save the date: Plan to celebrate Women's History Month, Juneteenth, and our 50th Anniversary Celebration with AAMP. Visit aampmuseum.org to learn more. Plan Your Visit Open: Thursday-Sunday, 10am-5pm. Tickets: $20 Adults, $10 Children, Students, and Seniors. FREE for members.

American Swedish Historical Museum 1900 Pattison Avenue 215-389-1776 Learn the forgotten history of Swedes in Philadelphia! Built in 1926, the Museum's unique interior is divided into a dozen galleries designed to highlight Scandinavian influences in America. The galleries explore the New Sweden Colony, women's history, scientific innovations, and Swedish craft arts, among other topics. Fall exhibitions are From Taste to Tech: 100 Years of Nordic Innovation & Impact and A Century in the Making: 100 Years of ASHM. Open 10-4 Tuesday through Sunday. americanswedish.org.

The Barnes Foundation 2025 Benjamin Franklin Parkway 215/278-7000 barnesfoundation.org

The Barnes Foundation houses one of the finest collections of nineteenth and twentieth-century French paintings in the world. An extraordinary number of masterpieces by Renoir, Cezanne, and Matisse provide a depth of work by these artists that is unavailable elsewhere.

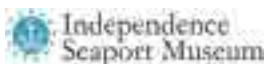

The Fabric Workshop and Museum (FWM), 1214 Arch Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107. FREE and open to the public (suggested donation of $10). Awarded 'Best of Philly,' this internationally acclaimed contemporary art museum is devoted to collaborating with artists. The FWM Store features artist-designed, handmade, and locally sourced gifts you won't find anywhere else. On view:

Jesse Krimes: Elegy Quilts. Through textile-based works created alongside individuals impacted by incarceration, this PA-based artist reimagines portraiture as a collective act, one rooted in memory and resilience (through November 1); Experience You Stretched Diagonally Across It: Contemporary Tapestry, a major exhibition exploring how contemporary artists are challenging the material, ideological, and narrative conventions of the age-old medium of tapestry (through January 3, 2027). Wednesday-Friday 12-6pm; Saturday-Sunday 12-5pm. For more information and holiday hours, visit fabricworkshopandmuseum.org or call 215.561.8888.

eye-opening journey through Black Excellence! While the Richard Allen Museum expanded into a larger space in the mid 1980s, the work of collecting, preserving, and sharing artifacts of the Mother Bethel Church began more than 200 years ago. The land itself is a valuable treasure. Purchased in 1791 by Bishop Richard Allen, it is now the oldest continuously owned parcel of land held by African Americans in the United States. Other important artifacts date back as far as the early 1700s. Come and explore the rich history, artifacts, and historical documents on display at the Richard Allen Museum at Mother Bethel AME Church. Tours are open to the public, family reunions, camp groups, and other groups to explore the history of Black Excellence from America's beginning through the present day!

The Museum of the American Revolution uncovers and shares compelling stories about the diverse people and complex events that sparked America's ongoing experiment in liberty, equality, and self-government. Through the Museum's unmatched collection, immersive galleries, powerful theater experiences, and interactive elements, visitors gain a deeper appreciation for how this nation came to be and feel inspired to consider their role in ensuring that the promise of the American Revolution endures. Located just steps away from Independence Hall, the Museum serves as a portal to the region's many Revolutionary sites, sparking interest, providing context, and encouraging exploration.

National Museum of American Jewish History Corner of 5th and Market Streets, Philadelphia, 215/923.3811 www.nmajh.org. Bacon Spaghetti, Char Siu Rice Plates, and Soy Glazed Crispy Chicken Wings. For the full experience, don't forget to pair your meal with their signature Hong Kong-Style Milk Tea.

Vegans Are Us Philly 1016 Race St in the Chinatown Square Food Hall 215/309-2239 Vegans Are Us is a 100% vegan restaurant serving delicious plant-based comfort food with a touch of soul in the heart of Philadelphia's Chinatown. They offer breakfast, lunch, and dinner featuring their famous drumettes, cheesesteaks, burgers, sandwiches, smoothies, fresh juices, desserts, and daily hot and salad bars. Their mission is to show that healthy food can be flavorful, satisfying, and made with love. Whether you're vegan, vegetarian, or simply looking to try something new, there is something on their menu for everyone to enjoy. They also offer catering services for events, parties, corporate functions, and special occasions. Open Tue-Thu 10am-9pm, Fri & Sat 10am-7pm, Sun 10am-7pm.

Xi'an Sizzling Woks 902 Arch St. 215/925-1688 and 4000 Chestnut St 215/222-9777 Xi'an Sizzling Woks opened quietly in Chinatown, with almost no one noticing. But once you try the Chinese kimchi, Chinese hamburgers, or Biang Biang noodles, you'll never forget the name. It's one of the many surprises at Xi'an Sizzling Woks, a restaurant specializing in Shaanxi province cuisine. Nothing blends these influences into a soulful fusion like the passage of thousands of years. Our top recommendation is the "Chinese Hamburger," a hearty appetizer that's like a lip-smacking form of Middle Eastern heresy. Another burger worth trying is beef and green pepper, seasoned with cayenne pepper and cumin for a stronger flavor. There's no better way to beat the heat in the summer than with a bowl of Liang Pi "cold noodles" - "whether it's the weather or the chili". Unlike other restaurants, Xi'an Sizzling Woks is also built for family-style sharing.

Yakitori Boy 211 N. 11th St. 215-923-8088. A perfect spot for a relaxing romantic dinner or night out in the city, Yakitori Boy is located one block from the convention center in Chinatown. Yakitori, sushi, and traditional bites such as Takoyaki are all served tapas-style. The open kitchen, gracious staff, and a beautiful modern ambiance exceed the typical dining experience. Food and Drink are just accessories here... the real gem is upstairs in the lounge. Sing in the karaoke lounge or book a private room for those rockstars in training! Open Mon-Thu 4pm-12am, Fri 4pm-1am, Sat 11:30am-1am, Sun 11:30am-12am.
